9. I am excited to add my collection to the larger collection of Minnesota poetry with my book launch in May, 2021. Thank you to Oleb Books for this publication opportunity.
10. I will continue to explore the benefits of D2L as well as its inhibitions over the next two years, especially when Bev Hill and I co teach because Bev Hill is the maven of D2L, and it's what we are using this spring for our MLS 620 course, and it's the very first time I've used D2L for a class before. I've become more open-minded to the idea, although I am not certain I would prefer to use D2L for every teaching opportunity it (im)poses.
