

National Day on Writing at Metro

Here at Metro, we believe that writing is essential to our personal, academic, and professional lives. It helps us connect with the campus and our community, and it empowers us to share our voices with the world.

Come join us celebrate writing in all its forms. The Department of Writing, Literature, and Language will be hosting a Student Writing Gallery with the theme Writing Matters in honor of the National Day on Writing on campus. The event was made possible through the support of several campus partners: The Writing Center, Library and Information Services, Career Center, and TREC Program. And a special thanks to the Metro students and faculty for their invaluable contributions to the writing gallery.

Student Center (SC) 201, Meeting Room
700 East Seventh Street, Saint Paul, MN

Wednesday, October 23, 2024
1:00-3:00 PM

Light refreshments will be available.

To request disability-related accommodations, contact the Center for Accessibility Resources, accessibility.resources@metrostate.edu or 651.793.1549

MORE INFO

Contact Dr. Parva Panahi, parva.panahi@metrostate.edu